  - Use 20 percent less coating compared to other elastomeric roof coatings.
- Cool weather may stop your competitors, but not you.
  - Pick up jobs from competitors who don't have access to Equinox.
  - Attract contractors to your work team and organization who also want the advantages of Equinox and PUMA, available exclusively to Conklin contractors.

Product Description

Equinox is an advanced technology coating formulated for application in cool weather. It extends the roofing season with a system that dries quickly in early spring and late fall. This completely seamless membrane provides excellent protection from the elements, flexibility to withstand building movement, and long-term durability. Conklin's Equinox provides an 85-percent reflective top coat that is Energy Star and CCRC rated. The energy savings from reduced cooling costs can provide the building owner a complete return on investment in 4 to 7 years and supply you with great referrals from very satisfied customers.

Warranties

Conklin offers an optional warranty program. Both limited materials and manufacturer-backed labor and material warranties up to 10 years are available. Contact your independent Conklin roofing contractor for more information.
